Individual with quality

We have been producing for you with passion for almost 100 years. In a wide variety of containers, on a total of seven filling lines, we realise high-quality products according to individual specifications for industry and trade.

Full service for different industries

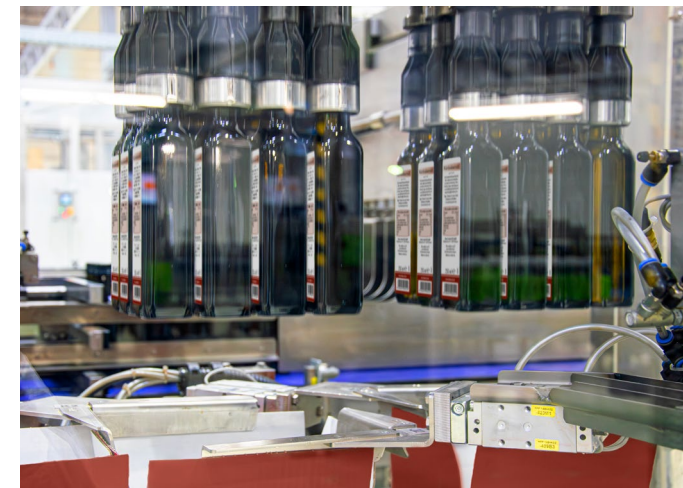

It all started with cod liver oil in 1925: since then, we have constantly expanded our portfolio to include a wide range of applications. We offer our private label services in a variety of containers in the areas of food, pharmaceuticals, nutritional supplements, cosmetics and animal nutrition and care. With our many years of experience, we create tailor-made products according to your specifications.

Our filling systems and storage facilities enable production according to industry-specific quality standards, such as GMP.

Your product in our hands

We accompany you from the product idea, through product development, to the filling of your individual oil blend. With our wide range of containers and closures, you have numerous options. Whether lightweight glass bottles, printed cans or painted containers in your desired colour – your product is in good hands with us.

We would be happy to support you with label design and legal testing through our internal quality assurance and share our knowledge of packaging with you.
